

HOW DO WE SUSTAIN THE AMERICAN LEGION FOR FUTURE GENERATIONS?

American Legion Department of Texas District 9 - Spring Convention

Guest Speaker : Steven R. Schiffman Sunday, April 8, 2016

From generation to generation the U.S. Armed Forces maintain a brotherhood like no other. While common issues related to military service are acknowledged, the needs of individuals may not be the same.

Returning to civilian life can leave veterans without the support necessary to assimilate back into society. How do you explain things to someone who has never “been there”? Operation Not Forgotten/ Vet Life Community (www.OperationNotForgotten.com) offers a process that helps veterans reach out to other veterans who need to know they are not alone.

The American Legion is an organization primed to take on the mission of welcoming men and women as they return to civilian life. Most American Legion members have the experience necessary – we’ve “got their six”.

Find out how the American Legion and Operation Not Forgotten fit together like a hand in a glove. Steven R. Schiffman will explain how veterans can implement a Vet Life Community at their local post, and how it will benefit veterans, their families, and their community. Schiffman says, “When you help a veteran, you help a family, and you help generations to come.”

In the U.S. Armed Forces, we don't leave anyone behind. It's one of the basic pillars called the Warrior Ethos:
“I will never leave a fallen comrade.”
